Hine Blasts Mayor's Letter On Meters

Hits Charges As Attempt to Smear Name

Gibbons Declares 'I'm Not Denying Anything I've Done'

A letter written by Mayor Claud Gibbons to the Magee-Hale Park-O-Meter Company of Oklahoma City drew sharp retort from Police Commissioner Charles R. Hine at Tuesday's City council meeting.

Hine, after having the city clerk read the mayor's letter to the company and the company's answer to Mayor Gibbons, declared "I don't think it behooves the mayor to try to smear my name with such expressions as 'offensive odor' and 'deals made.'"

The mayor declared "I'm not denying anything I've done."

Gibbons' letter to Magee-Hale, whose meters he has opposed buying for months, was written after three members of the city council on Aug. 20 voted to buy 100 meters from Magee-Hale and 50 from the Duncan meter company, which makes the meter the mayor likes, and was dated Aug. 21. Gibbons at the time said the motion to buy the meters was out of order and wrote to Magee-Hale.

Letter By Mayor

"No doubt within the next few days you will receive an order for some parking meters from the city clerk of Harrisburg, Ill., or maybe one of the city commissioners," the letter started. "As mayor of the city of Harrisburg I hereby request you to reject or ignore such order.

"We have a city ordinance here which (as I interpret it) gives the mayor the authority to purchase all city supplies and equipment. This all started a few months ago when a representative of your company named Hogan, Lary Hogan, I think it was, called on our city chief of police and made a deal with the chief and one commissioner.

"Well, when it finally came before the council it seemed to have an offensive odor so after some exposures in the matter it bogged down until yesterday's council meeting until it was brought up again.

"Well, one of the councilmen authorized the city clerk of Harrisburg to send you an order this being against the advice and instructions of the mayor. We have a number of your meters in service and at a future date perhaps will be able to use some more of your product but we want it to be in a legal, upright, above board deal.

"I am quite sure you do not want to mire your fine reputation by participating in a mess like this at this present time. As mayor of our litte city, I can not sign an order for meters at this time, neither can I sign a check for payment of anything ordered without authority. I trust I have made this clear to you; however if I can give you further information on this matter I am at all times ready and willing to co-operate.

"My advice is, do not ship an order of meters at this time. In case you want to communicate with me, please address me, 211 No. Jackson st., Harrisburg, Ill., instead of city hall."

City Council Resolution Expresses Hope Harrisburg Brick Plant Will Be Rebuilt

The Harrisburg city council Tuesday approved unanimously a resolution expressing the hope that the Harrisburg Brick and Tile Co. plant, destroyed recently by fire, is rebuilt, and pledging the co-operation of the municipality in bringing it about.

The resolution, presented by Mayor Claud Gibbons, stated:

"Whereas the Harrisburg Brick and Tile Co. is an industry that has steadily produced important building materials for a wide area in southern Illinois;

"And, whereas people were gainfully employed there, the majority with families residing in Harrisburg, where all the leads of their homes and persons were purchased;

"And, whereas a disastrous fire has temporarily halted employment for most of these people and building supplies for contractors and construction workers throughout the area, we as members of the Harrisburg City Council go on record as being deeply concerned with the future of this business and the citizens concerned.

"We need every industry that we have in Harrisburg, and we would like the owners of the Harrisburg Brick and Tile Co. and employes to know of our concern.

"We hope that from the ashes will arise a bigger and better brick and tile industry, affording employment to more people, and offer the cooperation of this municipality in whatever way it will be most helpful to bring about.

"Let us as citizens convey to the Harrisburg Brick and Tile Co. and its employes our earnest desire to see this business remain and flourish in Harrisburg."

Ordinance to Extend Water Mains Approved

Will Furnish City Water to Muddy, Buena Vista, Dorris Heights

Final passage was given by the Harrisburg city council Tuesday to an ordinance designed to furnish city water to a municipality and two other communities in the Harrisburg area.

Affected are the Village of Muddy and the communities of Dorris Heights and Buena Vista.

Last action taken before the ordinance was given final passage was the voting unanimously to buy additional pipe needed to run a six inch line from the point where the Dorris Heights main ends on west to the "Lover's Lane" road and south to Route 13, thence west into Buena Vista.

This was done after Raymond Pickford, one of a group who for years has been seeking a water main in Buena Vista, said that about 4,500 feet more pipe than the city will have available will be needed to run the line into his community.

He said that Dorris Heights had started its line and that the contractor sought to do the entire job for Dorris Heights and Buena Vista at one time.

Pickford said that Dorris Heights and Buena Vist. now have separate water boards, or associations, but that he expected there would be but one group eventually.

The accident occurred at nearby Auburn where Schleicher was residing temporarily. He was pronounced dead at Memorial Hospital here.

Student Kills Girl Friend, Then Suicides

Shooting Occurs While Policeman Tries To Prevent Tragedy

CHICAGO (AP) — A University of Chicago law student shot and killed his girl friend today and then committed suicide while a nearby policeman tried in vain to prevent the double tragedy.

Authorities said the murder-suicide apparently stemmed from a broken love affair.

Killed in the early morning scuffle on the front lawn of her apartment building was Catherine McGill, 28, a graduate of the Northwestern University school of journalism and an employe of a religious organization with offices in the Loop.

Her assailant was identified as Lawrence Fiellen, 29, a probationary second year law student.

Howard Pierson, deputy chief of detectives, said that Miss McGill was the daughter of a well-to-do Valparaiso, Ind., manufacturer. In her effects were deposit slips, dated April, 1957, in a Valparaiso bank in the name of Catherine and Robert A. McGill, indicating deposits of more than $600.

Pierson said the girl had done some free-lance writing, and was active in the American Society of Friends.

Found in Miss McGill's apartment were a number of religious mottos, including one which said "Not even a bullet through the heart is the penalty of failure." Ironically, the girl died of a bullet found in the heart. Fiellen shot himself once in the left temple.

Officer James Broberg said he was driving past the apartment when he saw the two on the lawn and Fiellen had a gun in his hand. Broberg dismounted from his motorcycle and ordered Fiellen to drop the gun. When Fiellen refused, Broberg fired a warning shot.

Fiellen then shot his girl friend

Change Over to Dial Telephones Here With Minimum of Trouble

Division Officials Present as Switch Made Tuesday Night

The switchover of the Harrisburg telephone system to the dial system was effected Tuesday night with a minimum of trouble.

"There were very few calls last night and this morning to report trouble," Millard H. Lynch, Harrisburg district manager of the General Telephone Company of Illinois, stated today.

The complete changeover came at 10:16 p. m. and calls flooded the dial equipment room. A check showed there were 1,480 calls made the first 28 minutes. However, telephone men who have been present at many changeovers, said this was not an unusually large number for such an occasion. There was equipment available to handle many more.

Those present to witness and make the changeover included Lewis Nielsen, General Telephone division manager; Gene Thompson, division commercial supervisor; Paul Nelson, plant supervisor; Oland Arnold, maintenance supervisor; Jim Lilly construction supervisor; Rybern Yandell, technician; and Mary Halpin, traffic supervisor, all from the division office at Murphysboro.

Mr. Nielsen said that the activity started about 9:45 p. m. when Miss Iva Jenkins, chief operator, began clearing the boards in the Harrisburg National bank building. Miss Jenkins, who was praised highly by Mr. Nielsen for her work during the past years in Harrisburg, had operators start answering all calls with the information that Harrisburg was being put over to dial operation and unless the call was an emergency, the subscriber should call again shortly after 10:05 p. m.

Telephone repairmen were dispatched to the police department, fire department, hospitals and other spots where the telephone service was deemed essential to the public, to test phones to see if they were operating properly following the switch.

Shortly after 10 p. m. telephone men began cutting tie cable jumpers and pulling out insulating strips in the new office and the pulling of heat coils in the old office on West Church streets. The jumpers had tied the old and new offices together during the past several weeks.

At 10:16 p. m. the conversion had been effected and people were calling all local numbers by dialing. Only long distance and information operators remained in the bank building.

Cook County Seeks to Recover $4 Million Lost in Tax Frauds

CHICAGO (AP) — Cook County authorities today sought to recover a major portion of more than four million dollars which they said the county lost in an alleged tax fraud.

State's Atty. Benjamin S. Adamowski said a three-month study by auditors disclosed a shortage of $4,233,158 in the county treasurer's office.

Treasurer Herbert Paschen, a one-time Democratic candidate for governor, helped uncover the shortage and was not implicated in the scandal.

Paschen said that of the missing money, $628,000 was stolen. The rest involved the alleged failure of the treasurer's office to collect full tax penalties on parcels of real estate dating back to 1947.

Adamowski said about 27,000 property owners will get letters demanding tax and penalty payments ranging from $2.96 to $17,000. He said unless the property owners pay the due amount, liens will be filed against the real estate.

Much of the fraud, Adamowski said, was worked by "collaboration of some treasurer employes and outsiders" in the tax foreclosure cases.

"Our investigation covers lawyers, real estate dealers and builders," the state's attorney said. "These swindles were not happenstance. They were cooked up. There is a deliberate pattern."

Adamowski said the October grand jury may be asked to return criminal indictments in the case. However, he said the property owners, some of whom thought they had been paying the taxes, will not be prosecuted unless evidence shows they were a part of the swindle.

Dooley Sentenced For Violation Of His Probation

James Dooley, Eldorado, put on probation in July, today was sentenced to a term of from one to two years in the state penitentiary for violation of his probation.

Dooley had entered a plea of guilty to burglary and larceny charges in connection with the break-in of the Eldorado Locker Co. plant and got probation.

On Aug. 24 he was picked up as a parole violator when he was found in a drunken condition in an auto parked in the middle of Billman road south of Eldorado.

This morning he pleaded guilty to a petition presented by State's Attorney Robert V. Wilson charging him with parole violation and Circuit Judge C. Ross Reynolds gave him the one to two year sentence.

Judge Reynolds this morning continued the trial of Leroy Chamberlain, charged with the murder of Eston Ledbetter last November, to the December term of circuit court.

Atty. D. F. Rumsey, representing Chamberlain, asked the continuance on the grounds that Atty. Joe M. Butler, who is co-counsel for Chamberlain, is in a St. Louis hospital taking treatments.

Generals Fail To Agree on Status Pacts

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — A resolution condemning the nation's controversial status of forces agreements was expected to be offered during today's session of the annual American Legion convention.

The Legion has opposed the agreements, which spell out procedures for trial of American servicemen charged with off-duty offenses on foreign soil.

Two of the nation's top generals took opposite stands on the agreements in speeches to the convention Tuesday.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, former supreme commander of NATO forces and now president of the American Red Cross, favored the agreements.

But Gen. Mark W. Clark, former commander in chief of the United Nations forces in Korea and now president of the Citadel, strongly opposed them.

Gruenther told the 3,113 delegates that our willingness to permit the civil trial in foreign countries of servicemen charged with off-duty offeases is "an integral part of our alliance concept."

Gruenther said that during his 3½ years in France "I never ran into a case where a GI failed to get justice."

Clark proposed throwing open all U. S. military establishments to American boys as an aid in curbing juvenile delinquency.

The general said he tried a similar plan this summer at the Citadel and "it worked out fine."

"Then I thought, why shouldn't it be done all over the country," he said.

Flood Threats Caused by Heavy Rains

Storm Sweeps Inland Toward Alabama And Mississippi

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tropical storm Esther struck the Louisiana coast below New Orleans today without causing much damage but its heavy rains posed a flood threat as it swept inland toward Mississippi and Alabama.

One man drowned when his car skidded into a canal south of New Orleans and rain - slick roads caused a rash of traffic accidents. Sidney Gerard, 56, New Orleans, was the victim of what police described as a storm - connected accident on U. S. 90.

Gale winds, high tides and torrential rainfall accompanied the storm area on its northeastward march across the hurricane battered Louisiana coastal region and into neighboring states. The highest wind velocity was 64 miles an hour, recorded when the storm hit the coast.

Streets and highways in southern Mississippi were flooded and the Weather Bureau at Montgomery, Ala., warned of possible floods on small streams in southern Alabama.

U. S. 90, a main highway from Biloxi, Miss., to New Orleans, was closed temporarily because of flood conditions. Power lines were blown down in Biloxi and Gulfport, Miss., and as far east as Mobile, Ala. Windows were smashed in downtown Mobile stores.

Esther, the third storm to strike south Louisiana in recent months, spared the beaten area of all but minor damage.

Coastal residents, wary of the dangers of gulf hurricanes, fled inland to avoid the type of disaster that hit the same general area in June, killing almost 500.

A cold blast of air brought a snowstorm into northern Montana and Idaho, dropping the temperatures below freezing and dumping two inches of snow by morning at Mullen Pass, Idaho, and Cutbank, Mont. The cold air touched off thunderstorms eastward into Minnesota and the Dakotas.

The storm, blamed on a frigid air mass pouring across the northern Rockies and the Plains, kicked up wind gusts of 55 m. p. h. at Ephrata, Wash. The disturbance sent temperatures dropping over much of the interior of the Pacific Northwest and other sections of the Far West.

Elsewhere, scattered thundershowers broke out over the northern Great Lakes, the northern Plains and the central Rockies.

Warmer air pushed northward along the Great Lakes and central Plains through the Ohio and Mississippi valleys.

Dr. Green, well-known in Harrisburg, was born at Alto Pass and had practiced medicine in Johnston City 46 years.

Elephant-Sized Task

Even before William Proxmire, Democrat, took the late Senator McCarthy's Wisconsin Senate seat, the Republicans had a difficult task ahead in trying to win the Senate in 1958.

With the newcomer, the alignment is now 50-46 for the Democrats. To gain control, the GOP must pick up a minimum of two seats now held by the opposition. That would make it 48-48, with Vice President Nixon able to break the tie and allow the Republicans to organize the Senate.

Picking up two seats sounds easy. But GOP chances are limited by the fact that only 12 Democratic berths, including Proxmire's seat, are on the block next year. Since five of these are in safe southern territory, the GOP fighting ground is reduced to seven Democratic seats.

Proxmire's seat will be hotly contested by Wisconsin Republicans, and he will not have much time to entrench himself.

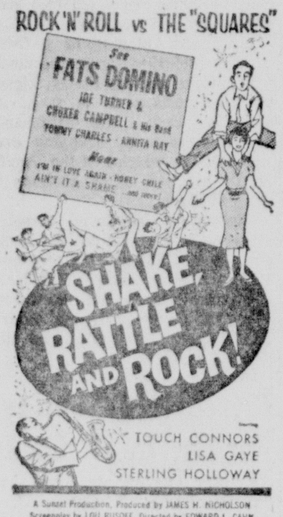

The other six Democratic incumbents—Senators Pastore of Rhode Island, Kennedy of Massachusetts, Symington of Missouri, Chavez of New Mexico, Mansfield of Montana and Jackson of Washington—are either highly popular or very well established.

Derailing any single one of these men—if it be assumed they all run again—is a man's job and the Republicans know it.

Barring the unforeseen, 1958 is not a year of high hope for the GOP in Congress.

Some orchids produce flowers once a year only, others twice a year.

Look at Who's Going to Take Care of Whom

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

(Editor's Note: While Drew Pearson is touring the Mediterranean, his column is written by his junior partner.)

JACK ANDERSON Says: Money Paid For Negro Votes In Faubus Election; Chrysler Fixes Limousines So Queen's Feet Won't Dangle; Ambassador Gluck Is Exhausted Learning About Ceylon.

WASHINGTON. — Governor Orval Faubus, who blew up the segregation storm in Arkansas, was helped into office by Negroes who sold their vote.

An overwhelming majority of the 65,000 Negroes, who voted in the 1954 Arkansas primary, cast their ballots for Faubus. This gave him more than the 5,000-vote margin by which he defeated ex-Governor Francis Cherry.

Evidence has now come to light that the Faubus forces paid cash on the barrelhead for Negro votes. This has stirred Mrs. L. C. Bates, who heads the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Arkansas, to preach repentance to her people.

"It is unfortunate that Negroes put Faubus in office," she told this column. "We hope the Negro won't be so quick to sell his vote in the future. We believe the Negro has been convinced his constitutional rights are more valuable than a few tainted dollars. It is time for Negro voters to stop being misled by professional exploiters. The day of vote selling has passed."

She knew several Negroes who were paid to vote for Faubus and Negro leaders who took money to campaign for him, Mrs. Bates said. This was confirmed by I. S McClinton, president of the Arkansas Democratic Voters Association, and other responsible Negro leaders who acknowledged they had accepted "expense money" from th Faubus forces.

The Rev. W. H. Hall, who directed Faubus' campaign among the colored people, denied receiving more than a "nominal sum."

"No more than $500 passed through my hands, counting what I got," he told this column. Most of the money went to car-owners to haul voters to the polls, he said.

QUEEN NEEDN'T STRETCH

On secret State Department orders, Chrysler engineers are altering the limousines Queen Elizabeth will use in America. The problem is to jack up the back seats without hoisting her feet off the floor.

It will take two parade limousines to keep up with the queen. These will be identical, fawn-colored Chryslers. While one is delivering her to her plane, the other will be waiting at the next airport for her arrival.

So that the queen and public can get a better view of each other, the State Department ordered the back seats raised four inches. This caused consternation, however, over whether her royal highness' legs might be left dangling.

Chrysler engineers, who are working on such precision projects as the Jupiter guided missile, got out their slide rules and calculated Queen Elizabeth's measurements from her pictures. Then they hunted up a girl with the same specifications.

The model tried out the accentuated seats, couldn't touch the floor. Result: Engineers are now elevating the floor.

Note: Every move the queen is expected to make in America has been carefully rehearsed with stopwatches. Her cavalcade will slow down for crowds, speed up as the spectators thin out. This should take her through cities, the timekeepers figure, at about the same rate as the average driver who obeys the traffic laws.

WEARY BUT WISE

Dress-shop diplomat Max Gluck, new ambassador to Ceylon who couldn't name that country's prime minister, took such a cram course on Ceylon that he left for his post last week in a state of "extreme exhaustion."

He even carried a doctor's certificate to prove it. However, its purpose wasn't to impress the Ceylonese with how hard he's studied but to ward off attorneys who wanted his deposition in a $185,000 lawsuit.

The suit was filed by M. J. Spiegel, Chicago businessman, who charged that Gluck had neglected to make the final payment on a chain-store purchase.

The doctor declared Gluck was so worn out from State Department briefings that it would be "dangerous" for him to testify Spiegel's attorneys offered to postpone the deposition and keep Gluck in this country by court order until his health improved. Thereupon the harassed ambassador decided he felt well enough to answer a few questions.

He spent the morning under cross-examination, but failed to show up for the afternoon session. He sent word to Judge Saul Strert of the New York county supreme court that he was too ill to continue.

The judge finally let Gluck, presumably still exhausted, take off for Ceylon without completing his deposition.

HOFFA POLLS TEAMSTERS

Jimmy Hoffa, embattled crown prince of the Teamsters union, made 60 long-distance phone calls last week to Teamster leaders around the country.

In the words of the marriage covenant, he asked whether they would take him for better or worse. Would they stand by him, he asked, no matter what Congress or the AFL-CIO said about him? Could he count on their support, he demanded, even if the AFL-CIO should expel the Teamsters Union?

Every last one took a loyalty oath to support Hoffa down to the last ballot at the forthcoming Teamsters convention. Insiders claim the 60 leaders control enough delegates to sew up the presidency for him.

Note: No matter what the newspapers say about him, Hoffa is a hero to a little band ofCheyenne Indians at Lame Deer, Mont. He contributes quietly, but regularly to a small factory that provides jobs for the Cheyennes.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Gates

Miss Mae Nell Mears, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Mears, RFD 4, Harrisburg, and Richard A. Gates, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Gates, RFD 4, Harrisburg, were married in the Big Ridge Baptist church at 7 o'clock in the evening of Aug. 31. The Rev. George Bain performed the double ring ceremony before the church altar, covered in bridal white and decorated with white daisies and palms, backed by tall candelabras bearing lighted tapers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a wedding gown of white bridal satin fashioned on princess lines with a small sweep train. The neckline was round with a front inset of embroidered lace. On her head she wore a silhouette crown of lace and sequins securing a finger tip length veil of illusion. She carried a white Bible adorned with pearls, and an orchid and stephanotis bouquet.

Mrs. Alan Mears, sister-in-law of the bride, served as her matron of honor and wore a dress of light pink dotted Swiss over pink taffeta, styled with a fitted bodice, a full skirt and a wide taffeta sash. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink daisies.

Miss Nancy Pankey, a friend of the bride, served as her bridesmaid and wore a violet dress identical to that of the matron of honor. She carried a colonial bouquet of violet daisies.

Ringbearers were Bruce Mears and Brad Mears, nephews of the bride. They wore black linen suits with white rose bud butonnieres and carried the rings on white satin pillows.

Miss Vivian Miller served as flower girl. She wore a light yellow dress with a wide sash. She wore a wrist corsage of white carnations.

James T. Gates, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. Alar Mears, brother of the bride, was groomsman. The ushers and candlelighters were John Ed Alvey and George F. Turner.

Johnnie Wilkins and Eva Mugge were also candlelighters. They wore identical dresses to the matron of honor and the bridesmaid except they were blue. White nylon gloves, blue feather ear-rings and a wrist corsage of blue daisies, completed their ensembles.

The bride's mother wore a brown suit with brown accessories and a yellow rose bud corsage.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a blue linen dress with a cape and navy accessories and her corsage was of yellow rose buds.

Miss Bonnie Billman, pianist, played a medley of songs preceding the ceremony and she played the wedding marches. She accompanied Mrs. Joyce Fetcho's solos, "Till the End of Time" and "Because." "The Wedding Prayer" was sung as a benediction to the ceremony

There was a reception immediately following the wedding, in the basement of the church. The bride's table was decorated with white linen coverings and the three tiered wedding cake, baked by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Leona Norris, held the place of honor. Hostesses serving the cake and punch were Mrs Shirley Rister, Miss Yovenne Lane, Mrs. Leona Norris and Mrs. Lillian Liles. Mrs. Zada Turner kept the guest book. Mrs. Barbara Miller was in charge of the gifts.

Many Scenic, Historical, Recreation Sites to Visit In Shawnee Hills Area

MASSIVE ROCK CLIFFS, caves and scenic woodand distinguish Ferne Clyffe State Park near Goreville. The park is well-equipped for both picnickers and campers and includes a playground. Hiking trails are numerous. (SIU Photo Service)

(This is the sixth and concluding article in the series describing scenic, historical and recreational features of the six-county Shawnee Hills area.)

Ferne Clyffe State Park near Goreville, for example, combines many of the scenic highlights of the Shawnee Hills in one excellently equipped camping and picnicking site.

Huge walls of stone, massive boulders, caves, streams and endless varieties of trees and wildflowers make the park an enjoyable recreational retreat during spring, summer, or fall.

Hiking trails wind in and out of the picturesque woodlands and rocky redoubts, and the park proper, situated in a quiet, shaded hollow, includes topnotch facilities for the visitor: tables, stoves, water, a concession stand and playground for children.

Many of the tables are situated beneath the shelter of Limestone overhangs. The park is noted for two unusual natural caves, and many geological nooks and crannies where the tourist may camp or relax in comparative privacy.

A fine hard-surfaced road leads west to the park from the center of Goreville on Route 37. Directions are indicated by signs.

Some four miles south of Goreville on Route 37, near Buncombe, a 700-foot rise known as Scenic View affords a delightful and commanding picture of the surrounding landscape.

Stretching away for miles to the east is a picture-book panorama of forest and farmland, touched in autumn by a haze of blue and in spring by the pale green and gold of new growth.

Located near Mt. Pleasant on Route 146 is an historical marker indicating the encampment where nearly 9,000 Cherokee Indians, en route from Georgia to an Oklahoma resettlement, perished in 1835. The tragic hegira, across what is known as the "Trail of Tears," was ordered by President Andrew Jackson.

Near Simpson, west of Glendale on Route 145, is Trigg Tower, one of two other scenic locations in Johnson County. A sign in Simpson points directions to the tower, two miles away.

George Bluff Tower is situated south of Cypress two miles from Route 37.

Steeped in history and rich with natural endowments, the Shawnee Hills section of Southern Illinois is a natural tourist attraction completely unspoiled by commercial exploitation. Properly developed and promoted, it could become one of Southern Illinois' finest resources.

Scott Air Force Base To Release 170 Civilian Workers By Oct. 31

SCOTT AIR FORCE BASE, Ill. (AP)—Scott Air Force officials today said 170 of 2,000 civilian employes at the base will be laid off before Oct. 31 because of cutbacks in payrolls.

Those released will be placed on a re-employment list, authorities said.

The release of the workers followed a Defense Department policy to reduce costs and a reduction of training requirements, it was noted.

Sir Harry Lauder, the famous entertainer, wrote all his own songs and sketches.

Farmers Show Readiness to Use Pressure

SPRINGFIELD—Corn Belt farmers are geting pretty mad nowadays. At least this was the temper of a 2-day farm conference which closed here Monday.

Some 400 farmers from all parts of the state responded to the Illinois Farmers Unions invitation to come here and argue the question "Where do we go from here?"

The fighting words "Farmers Strike" were never uttered. But angry farmers applauded enthusiastically the plan to build up a tightly closed organization, and then issue "union cards" similar to those used by labor unions.

This closed membership system would be used to coerce truckers now carrying produce to city markets, and all buyers of farm products.

SALINE COUNTY FARMERS ATTEND MEETING

Two of three carloads of farmers from Saline county, headed by John McFarland, president of the Saline County Farmers union, attended the Corn Belt Farmers conference, sponsored by the Illinois Farmers Union and held at Hotel Abraham Lincoln. The conference, according to Illinois union president, Ralph S. Bradley, aims to achieve two things: Legislative strategy for 1958 and discovering ways to improve farm income.

A majority of farmers here seemed eager to use real pressure in order to uphold prices.

Several national farm leaders participated, including Charles F Brannan, U. S. Secretary of Agriculture under President Truman.

"Unless farmers can rally sufficient votes in Congress to pass enabling legislation," Mr. Brannan emphasized, "farmers are not going to be able to remedy their troubles."

Secretary Benson's predecessor drew heavy applause when he denounced the procedure which he said was now being forced on agriculture, under which "farmers must produce all they can, and dump it on the market, regardless of price, while the benefits of these low prices subsidize those industries which absorb farm products."

This Illinois Fact Finding Conference will be followed by others in Iowa, Indiana and Ohio. The results will be written into a new program of farm legislation, to be defended before the 1958 Congress.

Personal Income Climbs To Annual Rate of $347,500,000,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department reported today that personal income in August climbed to an annual rate of $347,500,000,000, a billion dollars more than in July.

About half of the July - August rise occurred in wages and salaries. Most of the remainder was in proprietors' income.

More than 100 technical foresters from Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio are expected, according to David E. Herrick, Carbondale, chairman of the program commitee. "Forestry and Industry — a Partnership" is the conference theme. The organization has about 400 members.

At the Wood Products Pilot Plant, a research and etching facility operated cooperatively by Southern Illinois University and the Carbondale Forest Research Center, they will observe plant operations, research work on farm structures from native hardwoods, and displays of Illinois-manufactured wood products.

Widow of Railroad Brakeman Awarded Settlement of $42,000

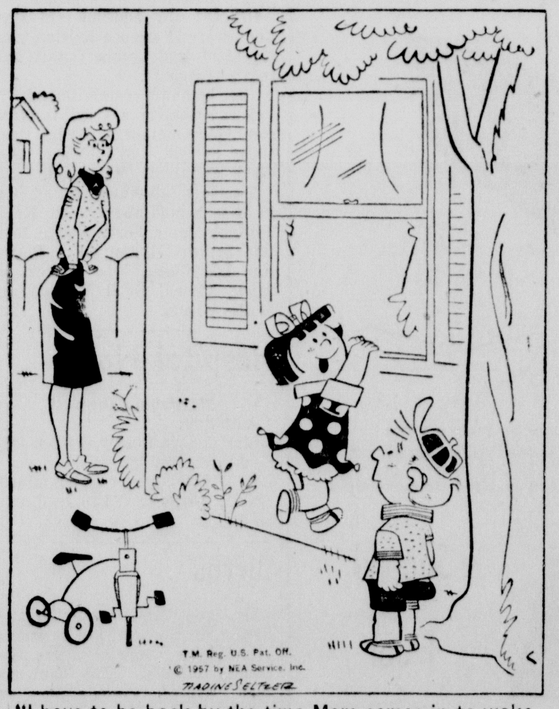

CHICAGO (AP) — The widow of a Pennsylvania Railroad brakeman was awarded $42,000 in a settlement which marks a milestone in medico-legal history, her attorney said today.

Attorney Francis Monek said the case hinged on the claim that the brakeman's death from cancer was caused by an injury suffered on the job.

The brakeman, William Bentcliff, Chicago, was injured while throwing a switch in the Pennsylvania yards here May 2, 1956.

He was treated by company doctors but died Jan. 3, 1957, at the age of 40, leaving a widow, Ethel, and three children.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of my husband, Freeman Motsinger, who passed away nine months ago, Sept. 19:

It seems like a dream,
Nine months ago today
An angel of death
Took my loved one away,
Our home is broken,
It is not the same,
Weeping in vain,
Death has claimed.
On a beautiful hillside
Not far away, lies my loved one,
In a house of clay,
Until Jesus comes to claim his own.
Then we shall know as we are known.
Sadly missed by his wife, Lilly Motsinger. *70-1

School Principal Strangles During Freshman Initiation

UTICA, Kan. (AP)—W. H. Salee, 55, a popular high school principal, accidentally strangled during a Halloween-type freshman initiation in an abandoned farmhouse near here.

Harold Mellies, Ness County sheriff, said an autopsy on Salee showed his death Monday night was caused by strangulation.

Salee had agreed to stand with a noose under his arm in a darkened room while freshman students, who were blindfolded, were led to him. As their blindfolds were removed, a light flashed on Salee's face, daubed with catsup and burnt cork.

Mrs. Betty Stevens, a teacher and senior class sponsor, said Salee failed to respond after eight of the 23 freshmen had been shown the stunt. Rushed to Ness County hospital, he was dead on arrival.

Mrs. Stevens said the senior class, sponsors of the annual supervised initiation party, originally had planned to use a dummy for the act but that Salee had insisted on participating.

Sought for Beating Wife to Death

CHICAGO (AP) — Police today sought Raymond Waller, 40, who they said beat his wife, Helena, 42, to death.

The victim's mother, Mrs. Stella Jankowski said Waller came out of his bedroom Tuesday night and told her "your daughter's dead back there." She said he washed his hands and left.

Police said they found Mrs. Waller in bed with black and blue marks over her nude body. They said there was no weapon nearby —that she was apparently beaten by hand.

They said Waller, a laborer, left a note pinned to the bed saying he killed his wife because of domestic troubles.

and turned the gun on himself, Broberg said.

Friends said the two met about six months ago, but Miss McGill tried to break off the romance a short time later. They said Fiellen refused to be discouraged and frequently begged the attractive brunette to marry him.

Last Friday, they said, Miss McGill's roommate, Sarah Whinery, went to Muskegon, Mich., to get married.

Police said Fiellen apparently went to see Miss McGill early today, and when she refused to let him in, he broke a glass on her apartment door to gain entry.

Miss McGill, dressed only in a light housecoat, apparently persuaded him to go outside where they scuffled on the lawn and Fiellen drew his gun.

Authorities said Fiellen is a native of Bloomington and his father lives in Chicago. The tall, blond youth also has a brother who teaches political science at Columbia University in New York City.

U. S., Russia in Race to Launch Space Rocket

WASHINGTON (AP) — The East-West race to conquer space is getting hot.

The Air Force announced late Tuesday it will attempt to fire a research rocket to the unprecedented height of 1,000 to 4,000 miles late this month.

Simultaneously Russia hinted, with the dramatic words "The assault on the universe has begun," that it is about to launch its version of an artificial earth satellite.

The four-stage U. S. Air Force rocket will be launched from a balloon-supported platform 100,000 feet over Eniwetok atoll in the Pacific to help free it from the earth's gravitational pull.

Protestants Protected

BOGOTA, Colombia (UP) — Interior Minister Jose Maria Villareal today ordered a halt to all local interference in the assembly and worship of Protestant sects. He ordered state governors to facilitate the functioning of about 50 Protestant churches which had become inactive or were hindered by local difficulties. Villareal's action followed U. S. Ambassador John Moors Cabot's call on Foreign Minister Carlos Sanz de Santamaria to request that Protestant sects be permitted to function without hindrance.

Kiwanians Plan Observance of Kids' Day Sept. 28

Announcement was made last night at a meeting of the Harrisburg Kiwanis club that National Kids' Day will be observed Saturday, Sept. 28. Members of the club will sell peanuts uptown to raise funds for the club-sponsored projects for the youth of the community. They are urging the public to respond as they have in the past to help out in these worthwhile projects. Eugene Morris is chairman of the Kids' Day project for the Kiwanis club.

Bob Burnett was guest speaker at last night's meeting and spoke on the subject of "Men's Fashions."

Men of today are looking forward to being well groomed and well dressed, Mr. Burnett stated. "The details in suits make up the difference," he said.

He discussed the details of the preferred suits for fall such as the Ivy league, three button and two button styles and also the new double breasted which include the new modern features.

He also discussed the preferred top coats and hats, shirts, ties and other items which go with a well dressed outfit, giving the preferred materials and colors to go with various suits.

Bob Rushing, vice president of the club, was in charge of the program in the absence of the president, Richard Davenport. The speaker was introduced by Sen. Glen Jones.

David Patterson was a guest of Eugene Morris and Bob Rushing and two members of the HTHS Key club, Larry Kuppart and Tommy Wilkison, were introduced.

Gov't to Offer Supports for Low-Moisture Corn

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department announced today that it will offer price support premiums for clean, low-moisture corn from the 1957 crop.

Premiums of 1 cent a bushel will be offered for corn with a moisture content of 13.5 per cent or less, and for corn with 2 per cent or less cracked corn and foreign material.

For farm-stored corn, the premium will be paid when the corn is delivered to the government. Where the grain is stored in commercial warehouses, farmers will collect the premiums at the same time they get their price support loans.

Earlier, the deparment announced it would pay a premium of 1 cent per bushel for corn grading No. 2 or better.

The standard national average support price for corn grading No. 3 is $1.36 per bushel.

The department said it will continue previously announced discounts ranging from 1 to 5 cents per bushel for corn containing from 14.1 to 17.5 per cent moisture.

Hine Attacks Mayor's Letter on Meters

written Aug. 30, said in part:

". . . Certainly, we do not like the inferences in your communication, and as you well know, our company will not tolerate conditions such as you seem to have implied.

"Reason for a delay in answering your letter was that I wanted to contact our representative, C. H. Thompson, in regard to this matter . . . Mr. Thompson . . . had with him newspaper clippings regarding the meeting of the 20th. Candidly, after reading your letter and then reading the paper report concerning the meeting which you referred to in your communication, we were more confused than ever.

"Our representative, Mr. Thompson, assures us that there is nothing underhanded in any of the activities of our Mr. Hogan, who works directly for Mr. Thompson. May we ask that if you have knowledge of a more detaied account of the things you seem to imply in your letter, will you be kind enough to write, setting forth such activity."

Mr. Heavner said his company had received a letter from the city clerk Aug. 21 indicating council approval was given to a motion to trade in 100 Model E meters for new Model H meters.

Placed on File

After the letters were read by Clerk Olive Patterson, Mayor Gibbons said the correspondence should be placed on file and asked if there were any comment.

"I don't like to be accused of making deals," Commissioner Hine commented quickly. "All my dealings have been above board and I'm sorry there is somebody on this council who thinks differently."

"I had the interest of the city in mind," replied Mayor Gibbons.

"You know, we could have bought the same meters for $22.50 that they are now asking a lot more for."

Hines answered that he had talked with C. H. Thompson of Magee-Hale about the statement the mayor had made that he could have gotten new Magee-Hale meters at one time for $22.50 and Thompson told him that such a price was far below cost, that at no time had new meters been offered at such a low price, that they had to be used meters.

Gibbons then retorted that he could have gotten some meters at $9 apiece and Hine said he didn't want a bunch of old meters brought here that had been taken out of some other town, that the problem here was that there were too many old meters now.

Four Members Present

"I'm not denying anything I've done," said Gibbons. "I'm representing about 10,000 people of this community and the actions I take will be sincere. I don't need to apologize for anything."

"I was elected at the same time to represent about 10,000 people, too," said Hine, "and I, too, have always been for the betterment of the city. I don't think it behooves the mayor to try to smear my name with such terms as 'offensive odor' and 'deals made.'"

"To any intelligent person, there is discrimination when you start to buy a $22 meter for $44.50," said the Mayor.

"Of course, any sensible persons would pay the $22 for a new meter, but no new meters are selling for such a price," Hine answered. "You were for paying $59.50 each, when we bought the Duncan meters (from Orval Nelson) for the parking lot. Why didn't we buy those new $22 meters then?"

Gibbons said he had not heard about them at that time. He insisted he thought Duncan meters would be a better buy.

"Well, the Magee - Hale meters come cheaper and the men who work on all the meters say the Magee-Hale is better," Hine said.

There were four council members present, Don Williams having let the court order removing him take effect without appeal.

Employment Climbs in Illinois

CHICAGO (AP)—Total non-agriculture employment in Illinois soared to a record 3,511,900 for mid-August, a 10,400 increase over the previous high set in 1956.

The announcement was made Tuesday by state labor Director Roy F. Cummins who said the increase of 24,200 from the mid-July total of 3,487,700 was the largest gain in employment this year.

Manufacturing employment climbed to 1,261,100, Cummins said, for an increase of 15,600 since mid-July. However the figure was 27,-600 below the 1,288,700 total reported for mid-August, 1956. Factory gains were attributed to seasonal increases in business and settlements of labor disputes in various industries, Cummins said.

There was an increase of 8,600 in non-factory employment, he said, due to gains in every major industry outside manufacturing.

Cummins said a seasonal slackening in production in mid-July caused a decline in average weekly earnings and hours of factory workers in Illinois, dropping to $88.02 and 40.1 hours from $88.81 and 40.5 hours in mid-June.

Continue Leopold Plea Until Nov. 14

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The state Pardon and Parole Board today continued to Nov. 14 thrill slayer Nathan Leopold's plea for a rehearing of his parole application.

Board Chairman Franklin U. Stransky said consideration of Leopold's petition for a rehearing was being postponed because the petition "contains allegations of a number of new facts."

He said the board believed these new facts "should be investigated" before any decision is made on whether to grant Leopold a rehearing.

Home Bureau Unit Meets With Mrs. Max Cochrum

Mrs. Max Cochrum was hostess on Tuesday to the Galatia Home Bureau unit. Thirteen members attended to hear the new home adviser, Mrs. Lady Martin Hunt, give the lesson on "Furniture Arrangements to Fit the Family Need." She pointed out certain principles of arrangement that are approved, but added that the homemaker must fit the arrangement to her individual need. Use of spaces was stressed and also keeping traffic lanes clear of obstructions. It was agreed that furniture arrangement is a matter of coordinating the family, the architecture and the furnishings.

The minor lesson, "Removing Spots on Upholstery," given by Mabel Cardwell, received special attention. Ina Allen was awarded the game prize and a Sunshine gift. Others receiving Sunshine gifts for August and September were: Edna Stevens, Betty Takacs, Margaret Hatcher, Mabel Cardwell and Rose Bledig.

Dues were paid during roll call and announcement was made of the annual meeting to be held Sept. 27 in the Presbyterian church in Harrisburg when units will exhibit their crafts in the morning hours. The potluck luncheon will be held at 11:30 a. m. and in the afternoon. Miss Jeanette Dean will give an illustrated lecture on "Colored Slides of India." The homemaker's camp to be held at Giant City park Oct. 10th and 11th, was announced.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and it was announced that the October meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Steven Takacs.

PTA Meeting By Consolidated Unit

The Brushy Consolidated Community grade school P.T.A. met Thursday evening. Mrs. Zelda Oglesby, past president of the Galatia P.T.A., spoke on, "What Makes A Good P.T.A. Official and Program." John Boyett, Galatia, spoke of the Galatia P.T.A. program of the past year.

Each of the teacher's, Mrs. Boyd, principal, Mrs. Carney and Mrs. Jones, spoke briefly. Donna Allen and Marshal Golliher led the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Mrs. Carney accompanied a singing trio from the school and Mrs. Bill McIlrath, program chairman, accompanied her daughter, Judy McIlrath, in a solo. Mrs. McIlrath also introduced the speaker.

Mr. Boyd suggested a year book as the P.T.A. project this year. Refreshments of pie, coffee and tea were served during the social hour.

Members from Buena Vista and Lone Oak churches attended services at Mt. Moriah Sunday evening. The "Golden Eagles" chorus will sing at Mt. Moriah, Friday at 7 p. m. There are 30 voices in this chorus. The public is invited to attend this highly recommended service and a free will offering will be taken.

Illinois Traffic Deaths Decline

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The traffic death toll in Illinois declined 17 per cent during August, the second straight month in which the number of deaths was cut and the second month under the new state highway safety program.

The State Highway Division reported Saturday there were 190 traffic deaths in August, compared with 229 in August, 1956.

Governor Stratton commented that "these figures strengthen our belief that the traffic safety program set up by the last General Assembly can help provide an answer to the slaughter on our roads."

The key measure in the governor's new safety program is a fixed speed limit law setting a maximum of 65 miles an hour for automobiles and lower limits for trucks and buses.

"It would appear that the new speed law, coupled with more strict enforcement, is cutting into our traffic toll," Stratton said.

"I want to express my appreciation to the motoring public for their cooperation and I am hopeful that the future months will continue to show progress," he said.

Traffic deaths in July showed a 26 per cent drop from the figure for July of last year.

Eagles to Play At McLeansboro Friday Night

Hope for Second Grid Victory and First in New Loop

The Eldorado Eagles travel to McLeansboro Friday night hoping to make the Foxes their second victim of the young grid season.

An Eagle victory would give Eldorado two wins in as many starts in 1957 and also give the Eagles the distinction of recording the first grid victory in the new Southern Illini conference.

The conference has crowned two track champions and one basketball titlist, but this is the first football season for southern Illinois' youngest high school organization.

Eldorado will enter Friday's game heavily favored to win. Against Marion last week the Eagles showed a strong attack and tight defense.

Foxes Drop Opener

McLeansboro opened against Sesser and dropped a 13-0 decision.

The Foxes, coached by Eldorado alumnus and former assistant coach Gene Haile, lack both size and experience, having lost all but two of last year's letter winners by graduation.

Sesser enjoyed a 13-point second quarter, including a 3-yard end run for one TD and 4-yard plunge for the other, to down the Foxes.

McLeansboro's best scoring opportunity came in the fourth frame when it had the ball only two yards from a score and four downs. But the Foxes couldn't find the scoring punch.

McLeansboro's probable starting lineup against Eldorado will have Ed Jordan (170) and Ken Hickerson (150), senior letter winners at the end positions; Ross York (165) and Gary Upton (170) tackles; Bob Howell (140) and John Ventress (135), guards, Don McDonald (150), center; Mike Johnson (145) quarterback; Ned Tyler (145) and Bill Alexander (125), halfbacks and Ronnie Sandusky (160) fullback.

Hard Charging Line

In the opener last Friday at Marion Eldorado won by a 34-6 score, gaining 384 yards from scrimmage and holding Marion to a 93 yard net gain.

Eldorado features a hard charging line and a smooth operating backfield.

Lester Feuquay and Jack Fowler, halfbacks, were the "TD Twins," with two and three touchdowns respectively. Jerry Rains, fullback, failed to score, but made several good runs, including a 45-yard sprint on Eldorado's first play from scrimmage. Veteran quarterback Cal Justice impressed with his good ball handling from the "T" formation used by the Eagles.

Starting linemen probably will be Co-Captain James Wood and Thornton Davis ends, Bernard Goodley and Ronnie Rains tackles, Bill Holman and Dwight Laffoon guards and Fred Pool center.

LUCKY FISHERMAN—Dick Applegate, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Applegate, 200 West Park street, had a most exciting time Tuesday fishing in Carbondale reservoir. He was one of a dozen men fishing there, but Dick was the only one catching any fish and he landed 32 pounds and ten ounces of bass in three hours of fishing. His string of eight bass beauties were brought to Harrisburg to show mother and dad, who planned to have fish for supper tonight. Dick, who is a junior at Southern Illinois University, was casting from the bank with an L. and S. Bass Master and other artificial lures. With him was Mrs. Applegate, the former Judy Wells, who is a freshman at SIU. (Register Staff Photo)

Braves Beat Giants, 3-1, to Maintain 3-Game Lead as Cards Down Dodgers, 12-5

By United Press

Joe Adcock and Hank Aaron appear ready today to give the Milwaukee Braves the one-two punch that'll eventually stiffen the St. Louis Cardinals.

Coming through when they were needed most,, big Joe and the lithe defending National League batting champion took care of the Braves' offense all by themselves Tuesday night in a 3-1 victory over the New York Giants that kept Milwaukee's lead at three games. It was a vital victory because the run-happy Cardinals walloped the Brooklyn Dodgers, 12-5, for their 10th triumph in their last 12 games.

The Braves didn't increase their lead but they gained something just as precious — time. They're still three games in front—and now the Cardinals have only 10 games to make up the margin.

Adcock, injured most of the last three months, hammered his first homer since June 9 with a mate aboard in the second inning and also collected two singles. Aaron tied Ernie Banks for the major league home run lead with his 41st in the eighth and also smashed two doubles.

Trowbridge Notches Victories

Bob Trowbridge, young righthander who has allowed only five earned runs in his last 35 innings, pitched an air-tight fivehitter to gain his seventh victory for the Braves while rookie Curt Barclay was tagged with his ninth loss.

The Cardinals, driving down the stretch like the old Gashouse Gang of the 1930s, poured over seven runs in the seventh inning to clinch their victory over the Dodgers. A double by Don Blasingame and a bases-filled triple by pinch-hitter Irv Noren were the big blows of the frame which brought Larry Jackson his 15th win. Danny McDevitt took the loss for the Dodgers—his fourth against six wins.

In the American League, the New York Yankees whipped the Detroit Tigers, 7-1, and increased their lead to 6 1-2 games with only nine to play when the Baltimore Orioles rallied to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 7-5, in 10 innings.

The Cincinnati Redlegs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9-5, and the Chicago Cubs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 7-1, in other NL games while the Boston Red Sox shaded the Kansas City Athletics, 9-8, and the Cleveland Indians beat the Washington Senators, 7-3, in other AL games.

Hank Bauer touched off a six-run eighth-inning rally with a homer as the Yankees routed southpaw Billy Hoeft. Bobby Shantz turned in a four-hitter and contributed a two-run single to New York's big inning to win his 11th decision.

Pierce Loses Heartbreaker

Billy Pierce, trying for his 20th win, carried a one-hit, 5-1 lead into the eighth inning when the Orioles rallied for four runs climaxed by Gus Triandos' two-run double. The Orioles won it against rookie Barry Latman in the 10th on Joe Durham's single and Bob Nieman's homer.

IN THE Sports Parade Picking the Grid Winners

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The first annual edition of Fraley's Follies and the weekend football "winners"—along with a few other sports observations tossed in for free.

Game of the Week

Oklahoma over Pitt — Oklahoma is moaning about its graduation losses but Pitt was hit hard in that department, too. A coach such as Bud Wilkinson isn't going to be caught too short, however, so it's Oklahoma winning number 41 in a row.

The East

Navy over Boston College—As much chance as an ice cube in a hot toddy.

The South

Texas over Georgia — I don't think the Braves will blow it.

Georgia Tech over Kentucky—Brooklyn is a cinch to go west.

North Carolina over N. C. State—Minor leaguers up for a late season "look" shouldn't be allowed to play against contenders.

Rice over L. S. U.—The Dodgers are right when they claim the front office "quit" on them.

Also: Mississippi over Trinity (Tex.), Tulane over Virginia Tech, Vanderbilt over Missouri, West Virginia over Virginia, Clemson over Presbyterian, Florida State over Furman, George Washington over W & M.

The Southwest

Texas Aggies over Maryland — The Robinson-Basilio fight is a risky bet.

Baylor over Villanova — Robinson is too cocksure for me.

T.C.U. over Kansas—Who said, "To be, or not to be?"

Miami over Houston—Carmen is a sentimental favorite.

Arkansas over Oklahoma State—He's a real nice Joe.

Tulsa over Hardin-Simmons — But if you point a gun at me I still won't wager on this bout.

The Midwest

Iowa State over Denver — The Moore-Anthony go should be a dilly.

Detroit over Marquette — They both hit like French 75's.

Nebraska over Washington State — The winner will be the worst catcher.

Arizona State over Wichita — The guy who makes like Yogi Berra will wake up with the morning editions.

The West

Oregon State over U.S.C.—Sam Snead still won't ever win the open.

California over S.M.U.—Jimmy Demaret is the best sports ad-libber I ever met.

Washington over Colorado — Amateur golf is chock full of hustlers.

Oregon over Idaho—Harvie Ward will win the Amateur again next year.

UCLA over Air Force Academy —And if you win with these, it's a miracle.

Also: Wyoming over Kansas State, Stanford over San Jose State, Utah over Montana State and Arizona over Brigham Young.

Pinckneyville Lake Grabs Spotlight

By Pete Brown

From reports by the Southern Illinois Cooperative Fisheries Research laboratory and the Illinois Department of Conservation)

Grabbing the Southern Illinois fishing spotlight during the second week of September was Pinckneyville city lake, where bass and crappie were gobbling up everything in sight.

Bass catches ran all the way from two to nearly eight pounds, with the Heddon Sonic and Lazy Ike racking up formidable scores. During the week, largemouth continued to hit minnows as well.

A solid believer in tangible evidence, dock operator H. Walton preserves the heads of all lunker-sized bass taken out of the lake. One look at his collection is enough to send any red-blooded angler hustling for the nearest boat.

Average catches of 20 to 30 crappie have added spice to fishing activity at Pinckneyville. Most of the fish run pan sized—not large, but not midgets, either.

Bass results also have picked up at Little Grassy Lake, but an overall slump by minnow fishermen probably means that cooling temperatures have forced crappie into shallower holes.

Trolling bombers across the points has accounted for considerable success at Grassy and this procedure will undoubtedly prove a top fish-producer during the rest of the month.

George Bates, of East St. Louis, brought in a six-pounder and a four-pounder and John McDaniel, Wood River, hooked one at six pounds and two others in the two pound class. Both were trolling.

If prizes were awarded to active fisherwomen, the 1957 championship for Southern Illinois would go to 70-year old Mrs. William Waggoner, of St. Louis. Wielding a deep-running Lizard lure, she boated a five and one-quarter pound bass at Little Grassy.

Bob "Surface Plug" Kelly, Cobden, caught a six-pounder, a four-pounder and a pair of two-pounders with a floating River Runt.

Lake Murphysboro fishing has been slow, but so has the turnout of fishermen. With the water clearing and cooling, results should improve.

J. L. Boulton, Garham; Oscar Qualls, Murphysboro, and Steve Jacthos, Wood River, strung up a total of 70 bluegill, and and H. Probst, Hecker, caught nine bass averaging a little over a pound.

Although little bass action has been recorded at Crab Orchard Lake, crappie anglers have begun to reap some good harvests. Many fishermen have run into schools of crappie averaging 10 inches in length.

C. D. Piper, Burr Richards and Nick Walker, a trio of Benton sportsmen, tapped Lake Moses for a sizeable quantity of bass during the week, and E. W. Simmons averaged 40 pan-sized crappie per day during the same period.

Harrisburg city lake fishing tapered off a bit, but lots of small bass are sitll being taken on a variety of lures. The lake is clear.

Checked at Golconda, the Ohio River was in excellent fishing condition and loads of channel catfish were being brought in on rod and reel below the locks and on trotlines in the river. Fishing, particularly for bluegill, is also good in Lusk Creek.

The Mongols are the peoples of central Asia. They make up a nation rather than a race.

Ozarker Outing At Lake Benton

The outing and get together for Ozarkers, and for others who enjoy recreation in Southern Illinois which will be held at Twin Oaks Lodge, Benton Lake, next Sunday, Sept. 22nd, is shaping up to be a rousing affair, according to the Benton Camera club, hosts for the event.

The time schedule provides that between the hours of 3 to 5 p. m. visitors may renew old friendships and inspect the several exhibits, which will consist of photographs in black and white and color, of recreational sites and scenes in Southern Illinois; a special display of photographs of Southern Illinois by the Benton Camera Club; an exhibit of rocks, fossils and Indian artifacts; and special displays by the Ozark Tours, the Shawnee National Forest Service, the Illinois Department of Forestry, the Crab Orchard Game Refuge, Eddyville Scenic Sites, Incorporated, the Rend Lake Association, Southern Illinois Incorporated and others.

At 7 p. m., after vespers and a picnic supper (visitors are asked to bring their own food and table service), slides and movies will be shown of sites and recreational scenes in Southern Illinois. The program committee invites visitors to bring slides and movies for showing during this period.

Announcements will be made of color tours which are being sponsored by various groups.

Coffee, milk and soft drinks will be provided. According to the Ozarkers and the Benton Camera club, the outing is not a money-making venture but as there will be some expenses, contributions may be invited. The project is, according to a spokesman for the two groups, an attempt to show what Southern Illinois has in the way of recreational assets, what is being done to exploit these assets and how individuals and groups may find and enjoy the many recreational opportunities which abound in this area.

XXX

WE walked toward the depot in the warm sun. When last I looked, Peterson stood behind his desk, staring out the window east toward the ricks of bones.

I said, "Maybe I ought to stay in Blue Springs, Harney."

Blanchard put his hand on my shoulder and gripped hard. "You go if Dorsey comes. Like we said. You'd be crazy not to."

"But in there, you said . . ."

"You don't have to prove anything. This town does."

Blanchard had a way of making things right for me. You had a trouble, you talked to him about it. He picked out the sense in it for you and you had it about whipped. It was the thing I'd missed most, maybe, not being able to spread out a trouble and have somebody pick it apart. A father would do that for his boy, it seemed to me. Any father except Chad Ambrose. Old Chad never gave me much chance, that was for sure. But maybe if I'd asked for some help, he'd wanted to get himself in shape to give me some help.

John McNabb stopped my thinking. He stepped around the corner of the depot just when me and Blanchard got there. I could see the spot on his shirt, star-shaped, where it wasn't sun-faded.

McNabb said, "Marshal, you remember me? You talked to me the night—"

"Sure. I remember."

"There's something I got to tell you. About Cole Jethroe. You seen him?"

Blanchard nodded.

"Be careful of Cole, marshal. Cole don't look so bad and to talk to him . . . but you watch out for Cole. He's barb-wire mean. Cole can be more trouble than both Clements together. Tell you the truth, I think Cole's a mite cracy, marshal. This whole thing, he's at the bottom. It's a thing like Cole would do, waiting until everything was just right."

"Why tell me this now?"

"Well, I don't rightly know, marshal. I reckon I feel a little bit sorry for you. What I mean is, I been a lawman too long to just take it off like a suit of clothes. I been in some bad spots in my time. Nothing bad as yours, though. I know how a man needs a little help in a bad spot."

"I'm much obliged," Blanchard said. "I've been wondering about you."

"I . . . I ain't been sleepin' much. It's sure a lot easier to face trouble than to back down from it, in the long run."

"For most men," Blanchard said. "I'm not making excuses but I didn't see what there was I could do but what I did do. I couldn't do it alone. A man's not a town marshal without the town siding him."

"You had to decide," Blanchard said. "You did."

* * *

"YEAH. But I had to tell you about Cole, anyway. Maybe just so I could say I helped Harney Blanchard. Funny thing, Mr. Blanchard. Out here in the cow-towns we hear a lot about federal marshals, the ones like you, anyway. I reckon most of us hope some day we'll get a chance to work with one of you, maybe learn how you do things. Well, it's funny. Here's my chance. Only I'm not marshal any more."

"The town might ask you to be marshal again before this day is over. Would you take the job?"

"You mean . . . Peterson? He's thinking of going against the Clements?"

Blanchard looked back toward Peterson's office. "Well, he's thinking. Would you take the job?"

McNabb's shoulders went back and his chin lifted. "Sure," he said.

"All right," Blanchard said. "I'd be proud to have you with us, McNabb."

"I'll be ready," McNabb said. "You'll remember about Cole. . ."

Lillian Jethroe stood on the hotel porch. She saw us and came down the steps. She was without a hat and I saw the excitement in her face.

She said, "I thought you'd never come. Nobody knew where you were."

Blanchard said, "What is it, Lillian?"

"A rider came to me not half an hour ago, at the house. From the Clements. He said that Cole was coming to see me about dark and I should be ready. I knew I should tell you right away."

"All right. Now what you'd better do is take Dick and go stay with somebody. Take that gun with you and not much else."

* * *

"But that might spoil it all! I said I would help. Well, now let me do all that I can! If I stay there tonight and wait for Cole, I might find out exactly what you need to know. Would they warn me this way if they intended to hurt me?"

"I don't know," Blanchard said.

Lillian looked at me. "What do you think, Pike?" She waited for the answer. I'd just heard McNabb warn us about Cole.

I knew that if she really wanted to do that, she would do it, and even Harney Blanchard couldn't stop her. I said, "Maybe it's all right."

Blanchard frowned. I could see him thinking he'd been out-voted and he didn't like it. Then he shrugged. "All right. But there's time to change your mind."

"I won't change my mind," Lillian said.

"Would you use that gun?" Blanchard said. "Pike says you wouldn't."

Lillian looked at me. "I wonder where Pike got such an idea. I don't know. I suppose I might."
